Ideas to Make World Peace

Covering - Equality, Acceptance of Diversity and Anti Racial Discrimination

Social Media

The most common and the easiest way to promote the ideas we came up with is social media. We use it everyday to share happenings around us. Why not use the platforms that are given to us by raising awareness. Sharing news and data on the given ideas. For example, we can share articles about countries that has reached close little to no gender bias, those countries experiences better economy and less crimes. We can also share and update the public with what's happening around the world regarding racial crime in order to let the people know that these things are happening to this day.

Projects

Arrange activities that includes a mix of nationalities such as this conference. It is beneficial for the certain individuals that is apart of it because it lets them experience working with other nationalities and there is no gender or racial bias going on because everyone is on a level and equal playing field. It also give us an insight on other cultures firsthand, it's a good way to learn how to work with each other regardless of your background and ethnicity.

ISSUE NO. 10

EQUALITY MATTERS

Through Education

As many would say education is key. That statement is very true. In our society currently there is little to no classes offered regarding these topics. As far as we know through research, only a couple of institutions per continent along with the United Nations are offering classes about anti racism and gender equality. We can all do our part by talking or petitioning to our respective universities to have these informative classes as an extracurricular or permanent subject of some sorts in order to start somewhere.

Eliminating Generational Prejudice

No child is born with hatred towards certain ethnicities and gender, it is all learned through his/her community and family. We as the next generation can eliminate all the negative things in our community as individuals. We can start with sharing our idealisms and opinions with the ones near us and hopefully that should open a lot of people's eyes and become more open minded. Through that it should start a chain reaction in our surroundings and help the process of eliminating generational prejudices that has existed for a long time.
